Politician/porno actress/author Cicciolina, whose new book bares her sexy secrets

Cicciolina, the stripteaser and porno actress who last year was elected to Italy's parliament, reveals in her new autobiography, Confessions, that she once was a spy for the Hungarian intelligence service, trading sex for secrets. One of her victims, she says, was a U.S. politician in Budapest. Their affair lasted only a few days, after which the American—whose name she apparently never learned—took his own life.

Born in Hungary and christened Ilona Staller, Cicciolina adopted her new name after moving to Rome. Her book, which was published in France, may find an American outlet if it sells well in Europe.

Also enclosed is the biographical information regarding Lukens contained in the 1987-1988 Congressional Directory for the 100th Congress, as well as a photocopy of an article that appeared in a recent Parade Magazine concerning pornographic actress Cicciolina, who now serves in Italy's parliament. The final enclosure is a memorandum to Assistant Director J.H. Geer from Raymond Mislock, U.S. Department of State (USDS) Counterintelligence Staff dated 3/30/88, concerning Lukens.

FBIHQ requests appropriate Washington Metropolitan Field Office ASAC and Squad Supervisor arrange to provide Congressman Lukens with a defensive briefing highlighting the fact that the very nature of his position on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, coupled with the Hungarian Intelligence Service (HIS) penchant for, and apparent success with, the sexual entrapment scenario, make him an excellent candidate for compromise. This fact should come as no surprise to Lukens who, as the enclosed biographical data notes, served

On May 24, 1988, Congressman Donald E. "Buz" Lukens was interviewed at his office, 117 Cannon Building, Washington, D.C.
20515, telephone number (202)225-6205 by representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). Lukens advised as follows:

Lukens was advised he was being interviewed concerning his foreign bloc travel and contacts. Lukens was very cooperative and talked openly about his overseas bloc travel. He stated he had never been approached by any Hostile Intelligence Service (HIS) and was fully aware of HIS techniques and procedures due to his prior work in the United States Air Force, Office of Special Investigation in the counterintelligence field.
Lukens was advised of the FBI's Foreign Counterintelligence program and the fact that he could possibly be a target for exploitation by bloc intelligence services due to his position as a U.S. Congressman and a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Lukens' relationship with [redacted] was personal and social. He advised that he suspected she may have been working for the CIS, but stated she has never done anything to solicit his cooperation in intelligence activities. Lukens advised he requested the embassy staff several years ago to "check" her out and he advised he never received any derogatory information concerning her.

Lukens voluntarily provided copies of personal correspondence he has received from [redacted] and other bloc friends. Lukens maintains contact with the following individuals:

[redacted] Romanian citizen
[redacted] Czech citizen
[redacted], Hungarian citizen
